

Turn Your Audience Into Your Own App.

A branded platform for creators and businesses to run paid 1:1 sessions, memberships, and community — without depending on social algorithms.

IN 6 STRUCTURED PHASES

Your audience is loyal. Your income still isn't.

Creators and audience-led businesses build real trust on Instagram, YouTube and WhatsApp — then hand the relationship, the data, and the monetisation to someone else's platform and algorithm.

Reach ≠ revenue

Followers don't convert into predictable income without a direct paid channel.

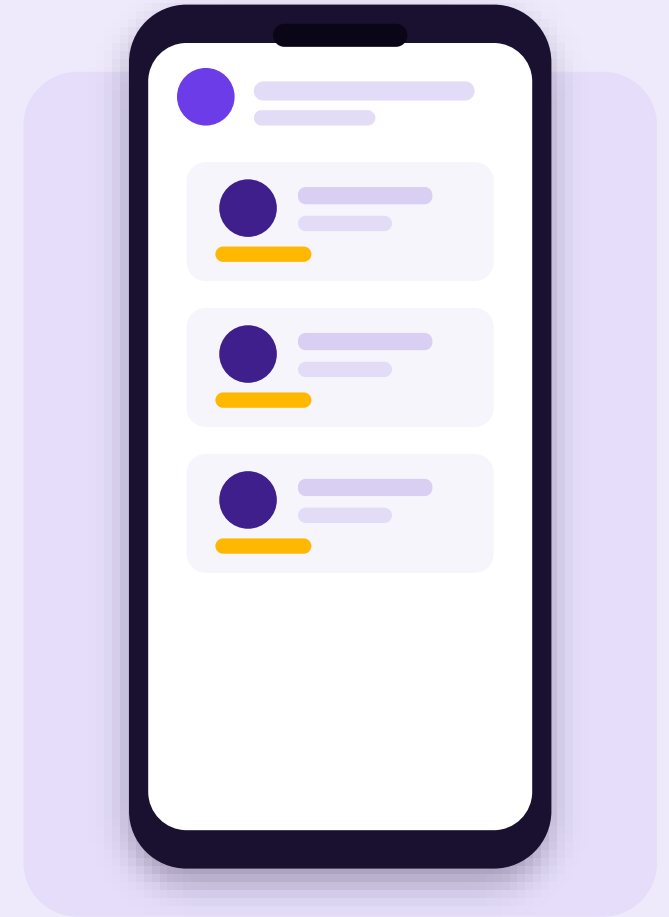

No owned relationship

Fans, payments and messages all sit inside someone else's app.

One idea, one product

No way to sell 1:1 time, memberships and content in one place.

A branded app, built around one creator.

TathyaForge designs and builds a dedicated iOS/Android + web app — under your name, your identity — where fans book time, join memberships, and pay you directly.

Fully white-labelled

Your logo, colours and voice — not a marketplace listing among many.

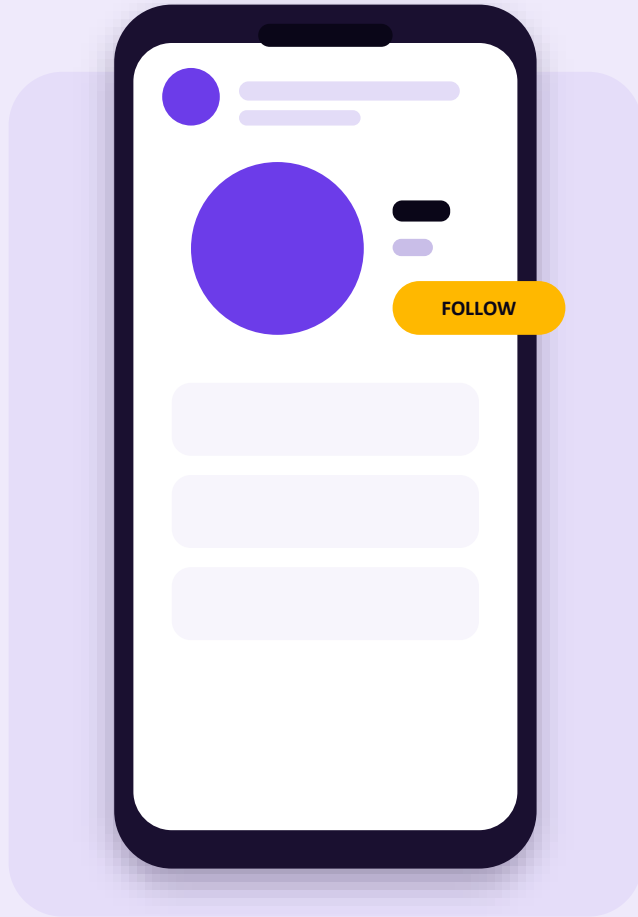

One login, every offer

Sessions, subscriptions, content and community in a single app.

You keep the data

Fan lists, payments and engagement history stay in your system.

Paid 1:1 sessions, booked in a tap.

The feature that started this brief: fans pick a slot, pay upfront, and join a private video or chat session — the same pattern top fitness, career and finance creators already use to monetise 1:1 access.

Smart availability

Creator sets open slots; the app blocks double-booking automatically.

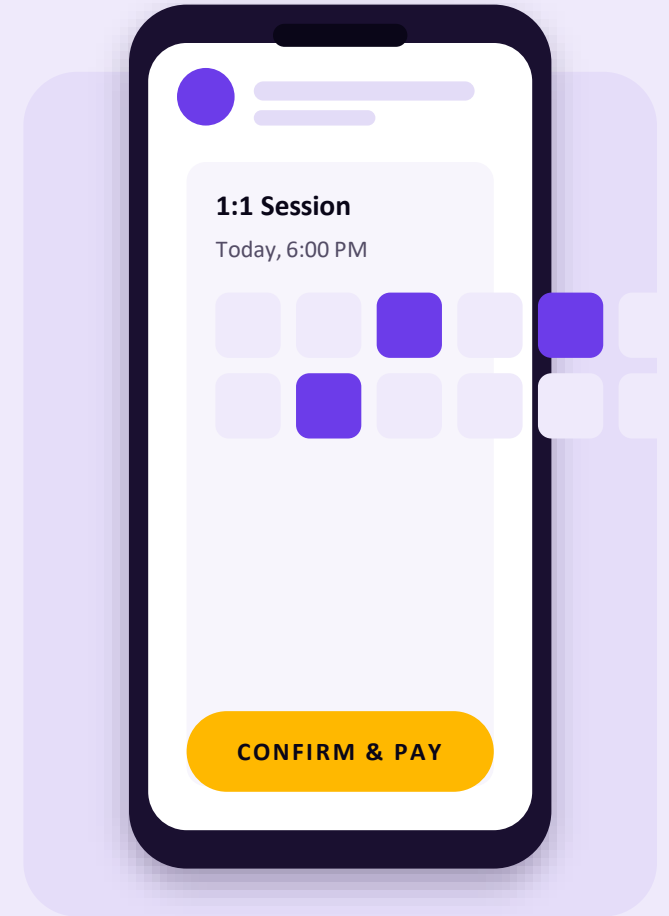

Pay-to-confirm

Card, UPI or wallet payment locks the slot — no chasing invoices.

In-app video & chat

Session happens natively, with reminders and post-call follow-up.

Community and content, always on.

Beyond 1:1 calls, members get a home feed, direct messaging and gated content — so the app earns its place as a daily habit, not a once-a-month booking screen.

Tiered memberships

Free, Plus and VIP tiers unlock different content and perks.

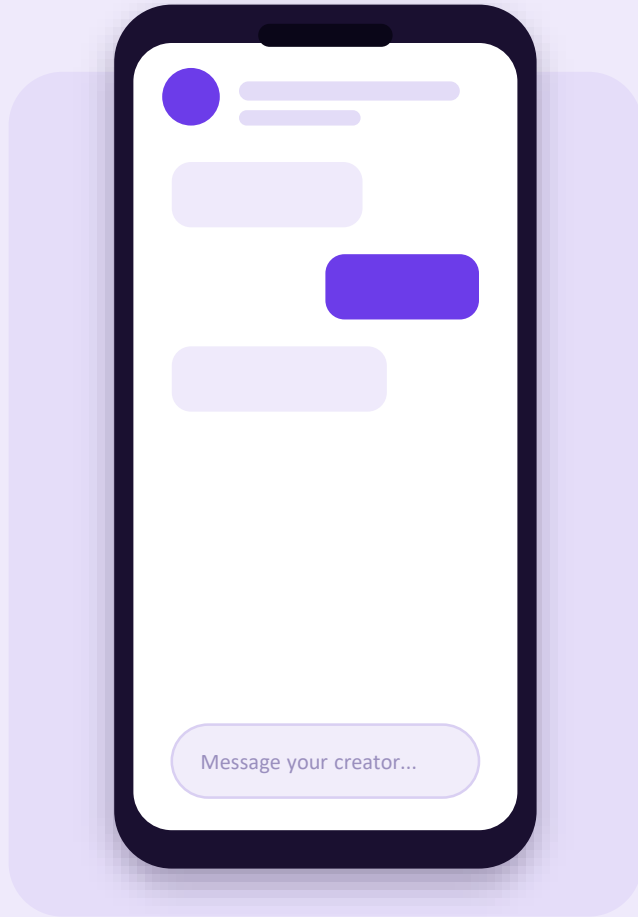

Direct messaging

Fans reach the creator (or their team) without leaving the app.

Gated content library

Videos, guides and downloads released on a schedule.

One system, three connected sides.

A creator/business console, a fan-facing app, and a reliable backend tying bookings, payments and content together — engineered the same way TathyaForge builds production data and SaaS systems.

①

Creator console

Manage slots, pricing, members, content and payouts from one dashboard.

②

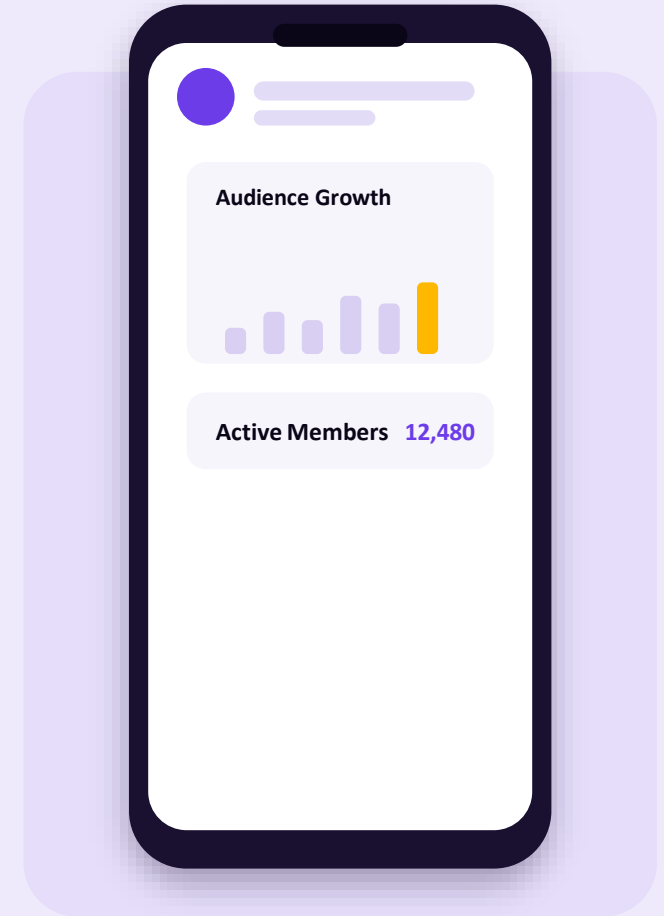

Fan app

Browse, book, message and pay — on iOS, Android and web.

③

Cloud backend

Secure payments, notifications, video and storage on Azure/AWS/GCP.

Creators already run their business this way.

Fitness coaches sell paid 1:1 calls, career mentors run cohort-based programs, and finance educators run paid communities — each on their own branded app instead of a generic marketplace.

Fitness & wellness

1:1 coaching calls, workout plans and paid check-ins.

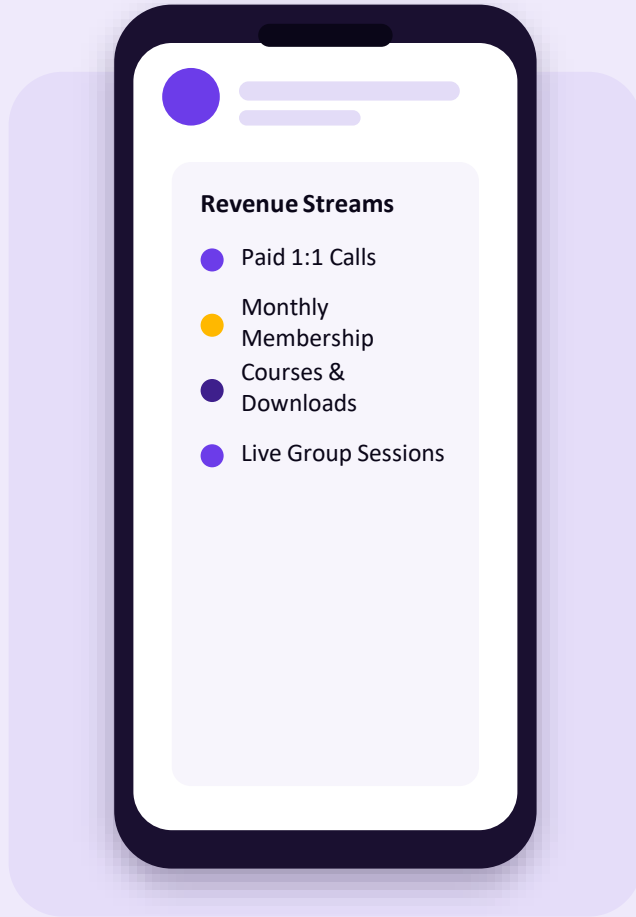

Career & finance mentors

Paid office hours, cohort programs and resource libraries.

Niche communities

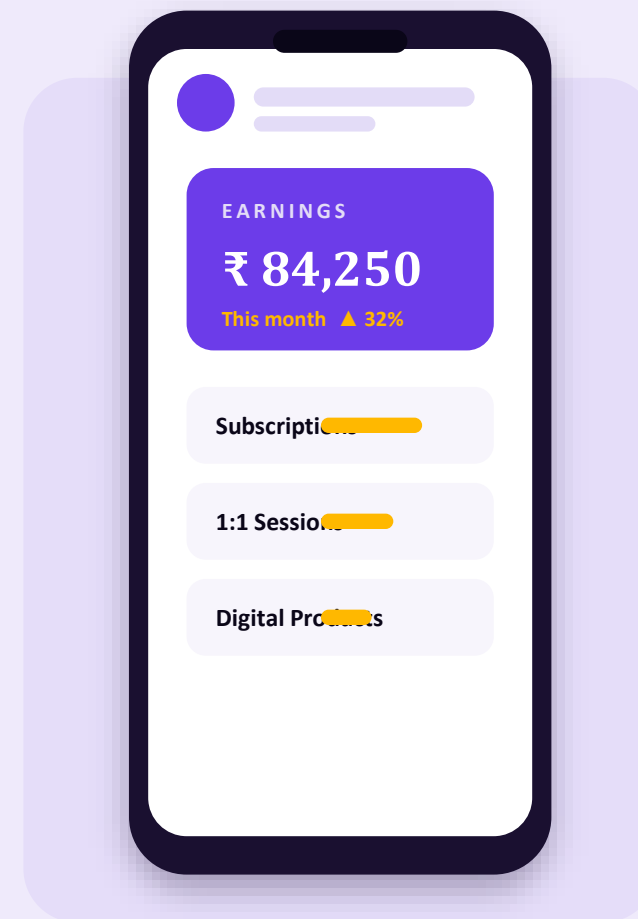

Membership tiers with exclusive content and live sessions.

Every fan, more than one way to pay.

The app is built to stack revenue lines, so income isn't dependent on any single format or a single big launch.

- 1 Paid 1:1 sessions
Per-session pricing for calls, reviews or consultations.
- 2 Monthly memberships
Recurring revenue across free, plus and VIP tiers.
- 3 Digital products
Courses, guides and downloadable resources.
- 4 Live group sessions
Ticketed workshops and group coaching cohorts.

Built by engineers, led by the founder.

TathyaForge is an intentionally founder-led data, AI and software studio — the same discipline used for cloud data platforms and ERP systems applies here: clear architecture, visible progress, real ownership.

Architecture-first

Payments, media and data modelled before a single screen is built.

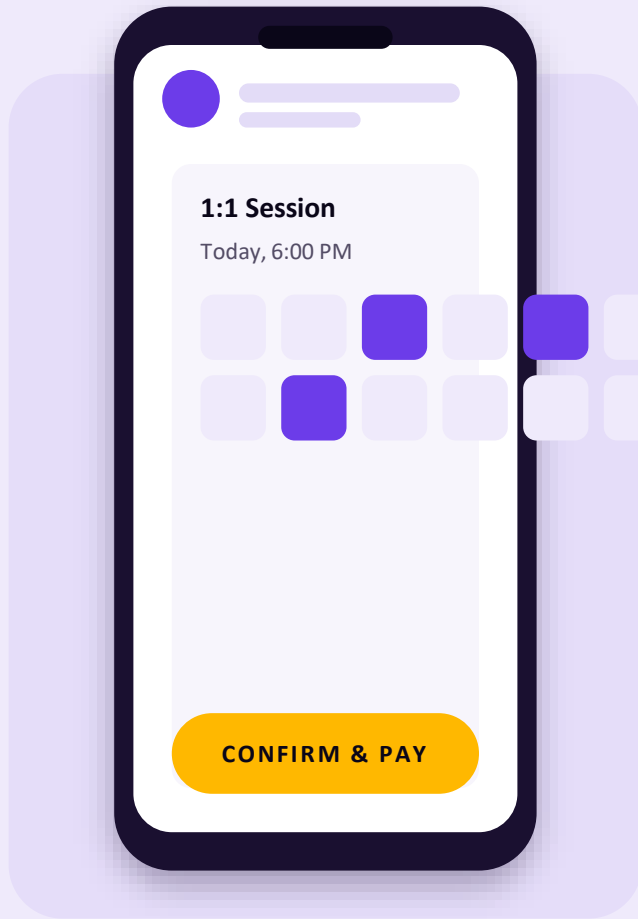

Weekly delivery updates

You see working software every week, not at the end.

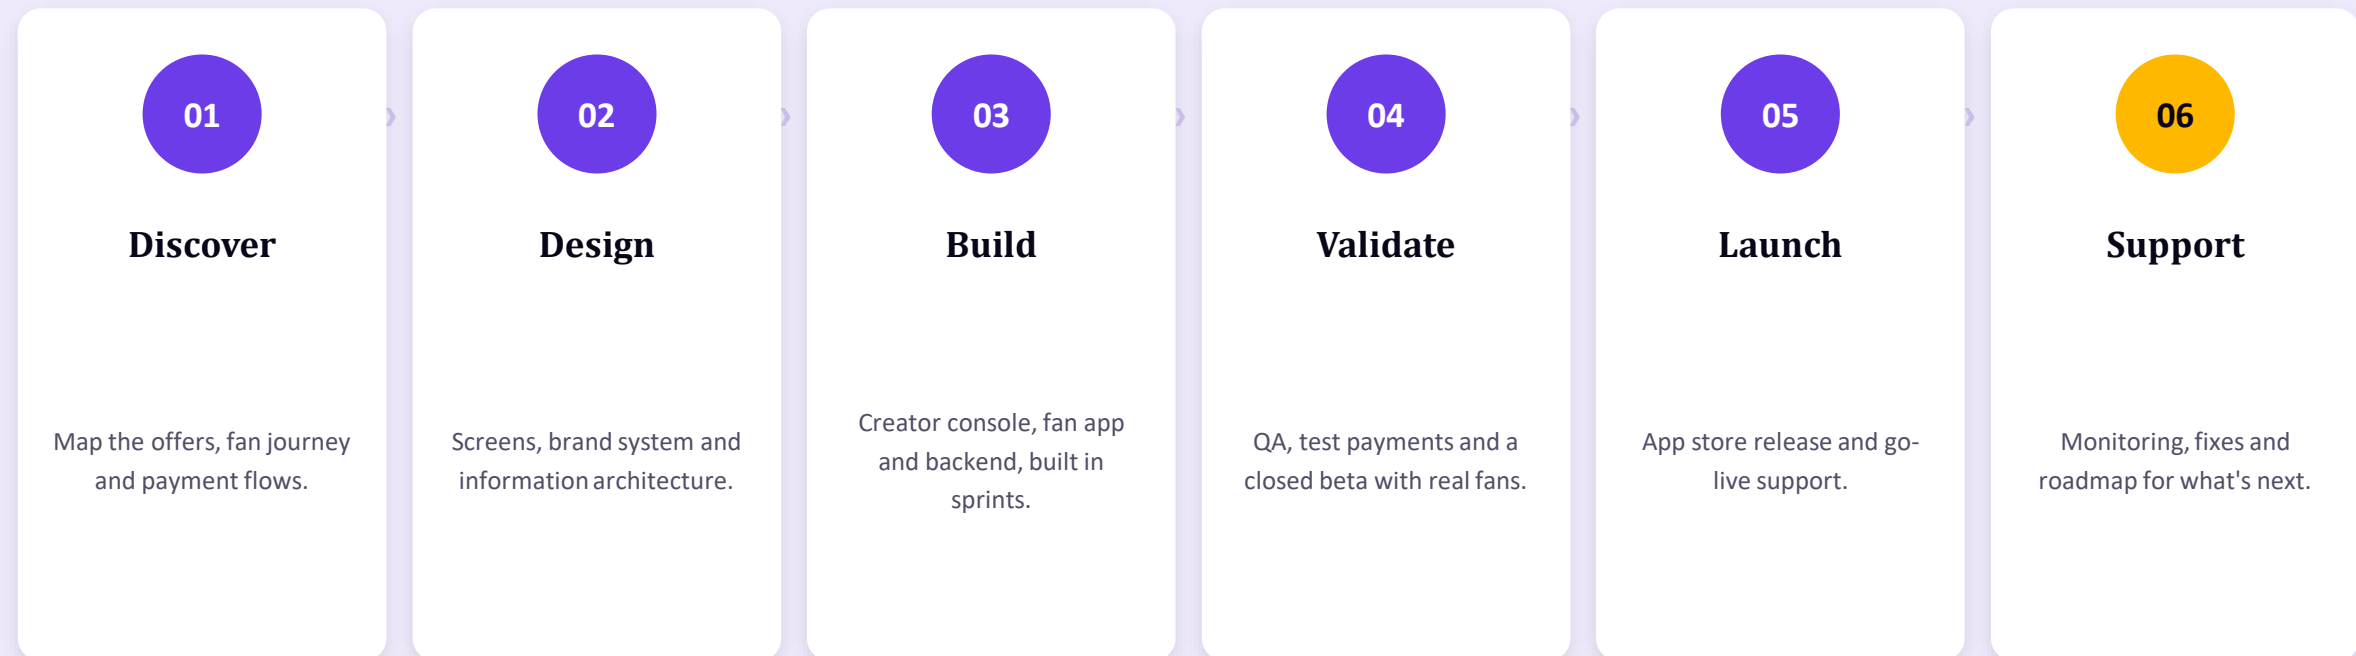

Support after launch

Documentation, handover and ongoing support built in.

A calm, six-phase build.

From first architecture decision to a live, supported app.
